COMMUNICATION FROM THE AUDITOR.

CARAL DAPARTMENT, ALBANY, Nov. 11, 1862.
To THE COMMISSIONERS OF THE CARAL FURN.—
The statute makes it the "duty of the Commissioners of the Canal Fund to manage to the best advantage all things belonging to that fund."

The present very on sarranseed condition of the Canal function, so far as related to the charges on the surplus revenues, and the necessity of immediate and declaive measures, as far as possible to retrieve it, is the occasion of this communication.

this communication.

The remainder of the revenues of the canals for the communication.

The remainder of the revenues of the canals for the coal year ending 30th September last, applicable to the impletion of the entary-ment of the Eric canal, and it the Genecee Valley and Black River canals is not at precisely ascerdanted but it will not probably varyunch from $500.000. This surplus was all expended that the year in which it was earned, and though the coounts have not been fully made up, it is probable that he payments of the last year have encreached a little on he surplus of the current one.

The expectation that the toils for this current year of navigation would increase over those of 1851, during the satter part of the excess has been disappointed. On the last of October the decrease is $27-and during the much of October the decrease is $27-and during the much of October the decrease is $27-and during the total decrease, to the Ist of Noromber, $230,642.

The $300,000 put down as the surplus of the last a year, the sum of Section 26 was derived from tolis alreads, from the 14 Ostober to the 1st December, after which latter date the roads ceased to pay. Having these facts in view is it safe to assume, at size of expension what the surplus for this current year will be more than $300,000, the surplus of the war?

The estimate of $100 000 for land damages is made on consultation with two of the Canal Appraisers.

Whilst it is seen that the present known charges upon the surplus for the year for expenses already incurred, are probably about equal to the surplus of last year, $300 000, and while no pertion of the estimated surplus of this year can be sorted till near its close, the contracts are understood to be in progress and the charges upon the surplus are being added to, as if there were ample means to pay the estimates. It is apparent from what has been said that any further payments in this fiscal

There is one expenditure which has not been noticed, which may or may not be made a charge on the surplus revenues as the Legislature shell determine. It consists of drafts drawn on the Auditor by the Caual Commissionera for work performed, by their direction, on the alleged ocutracts, under act, chap 488 of the laws of 1861, which were dishonored by the Auditor, and which are now outstanding, viz: drawn by John C Mathee.

INTERESTING RELIGIOUS CERRMONY.

Consceration of the Church of the Most Holy Redcemer.

SERMON BY BISHOP M'CLOSKY. This very grand and magnificent church, situated in Third street, near avenue A, was consecrated to the ser vice of God yesterday, with all the pomp and gergeous ceremonial of the Roman Catholic ritual. The building has been in course of crection for nearly two years. We somet me since, in our table of new buildings, published a description of it, its architectural style, extent, and probable cost to which we may add that it has been relied chiefly through the exertions of the German population located in our city and eisewhere As carly as six o'clock ye terday morning a large concourse of people had assembled in Third street, and at seven there were as many as two thousand present. A large number of Germany as two thousand present. mans and Irish continued to arrive from every quarter, momentarily rendering it quite impossible to approach the grand entrance door, or pass dawn the street. A company of the Independent German rifles, under the command of Captain Smidt, then marched upon the ground and fermed in single file in front of the church, thus keeping a clear pass for pedestrians, and repressing the apxious ru-h for antrance. The Rifles were assisted in this duty by the members of the various German and other Roman Catholic benefit societies who were present from New York, Brooklyn, Albany, Baltimore, Philadel-phia, and other cities, each society bearing its banner, phis, and other cities, each society bearing its banner, the members wearing their badges, and carrying ornamented hatons in their hands.

The ceremonial of consecration commenced at half-past seven o'clock, the Most Reverend Archbishop Hughes acting as consecrating high priest, assisted by the Most Reverend Doctor Newman, Bishop of Philadelphia; Most Rev. Doctor McClosky, of Albany; Most Rev. Doctor Whelan of Richmond, Virginia; Most Rev. Doctor Whelan of Richmond, Virginia; Most Rev. Doctor Whelan of Richmond, Virginia; Most Rev. Doctor Mosquira, Bi-hop of Sants Fe; a numerous array of priests and deacons, and about twenty acolytes robed in white, and bearing the incense and tapers. The public were not admitted to the church at this portion of the reavice, owing to the necessity of preserving from interruption the Archiepiscopal procession traversing the aide and other parts. The doors were thrown open at half-past nine o'clock, and a tremendous rush was made at every entrance. At ten, every available spot was fitted. with a conjectation of great respectability and inteiligence. Looking from the entrance door to the grand alter a very annualed and hallowed spectacle was presented by a support of the property annualed and hallowed spectacle was presented and the property annualed and hallowed spectacle was presented and printed and richly cornical to the supporting its many arches and gruined and richly cornical to the included light of a clear sun. He walled ceiling of army blue spenjed with stars of gold. the richly carpeted altar, the vertices of printed printed with mitter, cross and crozier of gold, and the deep devolocal failing of these assembled thousands all united to capitate subdue and lead the sense toward the service about to be performed. The banners of the Sciety of Saint Goardons, German Roman Catholic Benefit Society, raint Joseph's Verein frem Alrany, and others, were ranged and outlies walls. He took upon himself the read that the being of man. "The word was made fich." and God became man. He took upon himself our own infrantise. Here is the fulfilment of the promise, God uniting himself again with humanity—with that fallen humanity—coming down to it and raising it up, and uniting it with himself. He suffered and he bled, and shed his most precious blood upon Calvary for our redemption. By his succides he explaced our gold. Then the work was in it a commencemet—that is to say, the primitive world was thus for re-ortablished man guilt had been atomed for, and humanity and Donley was the all andscaly and at the comment. * * * As your plous fathers in the lands of of your birth raised you these glorious and majestic piles in honor of their faith, and in attestation of their plety and their seal; to here now, in this new land, where glorious has placed you—where he has blessed the fruit of your brades and the awest of your brow—you will show that within you there is the same faith, that the same generosity burns in your bosoms and that there is the same zeal in all your actions, and in all your thoughts Ob! then, let us relly sround that attar, and around that sacrament Let us relives it not only with material bodies, but with souls full of faith and full of plety and zeal. Let us love it. Let us come to it in our wants, in our misery, and even in our sin, that there we may be made whole, and that so at all times we may wor-hip within its temple here, so that in another day we may be made wor-by to worship in that other temple, where brought into the light and brightness of God's own glorious presence, and prostrate before the altar of God, we may join in chorus with cherubims and seraphims, and archangels and angels. Amen! Benedictien, and honor, and glory, and praise, and wisdem, and archangels and angels. Amen!

At the conclusion of the address, the immense congregation, of rearly ten thousand persons, separated at half-past two o'clock.
